COMMUNITY COUNSELING CENTER

Feel better. Attain your goals.

Counseling for individuals, adolescents, couples, and families.

Are you depressed, stressed, or grieving? Are you struggling with anger issues or family relationships? Are you experiencing difficulty facing an important decision?

Concordia University Chicago's Community Counseling Center provides counseling services as an extension of its Clinical Mental Health Counseling Master of Arts program. Counselors in training, supervised by Concordia-Chicago faculty members, provide counseling services free of charge to the community.

Counseling sessions are available January-May and September-November. Each client is eligible for 8-12 one-hour sessions.

All provided services comply with the American Counseling Association's Code of Ethics for confidentiality. Children under age 12 must be seen with their family unit.
