

Hidden in Plain Sight: Detecting Teen's Risky Behaviors

Thursday April 25, 2019
Oak Park River Forest High School
The Mall & South Cafeteria

Detecting risky behavior in teenagers may be more difficult than parents think. In fact, some of these red flags are visible in a child's room but not immediately noticeable. Hidden in Plain Sight is a mobile unit that looks like a child's room and is designed to help parents of teens recognize unfamiliar hazards that are often in plain sight.
